

BEYOND DISCIPLINES

Held in collaboration with the Centre for Sensory Studies

Come to your senses: Sensescapes in research and in life

How do we use our senses in everyday life? How do the differently abled experience the sensory world? Join us for an evening of immersive sensory exploration and discussion that will challenge the way you think of your senses.

Thursday, October 20, 2016 5 – 7 PM

EV Building, Sir George Williams Campus, 1515 Ste Catherine Street West, (Engineering side), room 2.260

MASTER OF CEREMONIES

David Howes (Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Co-director, Centre for Sensory Studies)

PRESENTERS

Owen Chapman (Department of Communication Studies, co-Director, Montreal Mobile Media Lab)

Co-presentation: Piet Devos (Visiting postdoctoral fellow, Centre for Sensory Studies), and Florian Grond (Postdoctoral fellow, Centre for Interdisciplinary Research in Music, Media, and Technology, McGill University)

Co-presentation: Jill Didur (Department of English), Cynthia Hammond (Faculty of Fine Arts, Department of Art History), and Shauna Janssen (Faculty of Fine Arts, Artist in Residence, Department of Theatre)

Claudine Gauthier (Department of Physics)

Aaron Johnson (Department of Psychology, Member, Centre for interdisciplinary research in rehabilitation of Greater Montreal)

Rhona Richman Kenneally (Faculty of Fine Arts, Department of Design and Computation Arts, Fellow, School of Irish Studies)

Reception to follow, EV room 11.725 (Fine Arts side)

This event is free and open to the public. Wheelchair accessible. On-site daycare and ASQ / LSQ translation available upon request, with 48 hours' notice.

Space is limited, RSVP required: RSVP.fas@concordia.ca

concordia.ca/artsci