

Embodied Knowledge

Sensory Studies in the 21st Century

A Burdick-Vary Symposium

Featuring a series of tasty “sound bytes” and short, pithy multi-media presentations exploring the senses in trans-disciplinary research.

Friday, October 3, 2014 — 9 A.M. - 5 P.M.

DeLuca Forum, Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery

PARTICIPANTS

Faisal Abdu’Allah

Lynda Barry

Peter Bovenmyer

Sonya Clark

Tom Dale

Kathryn Linn Geurts

Marvin Gutierrez

Mary Hark

Darryl Harper

Ray Hernández-Durán

Marguerite E. Heckscher

David Howes

Chris Walker

Sheron Wray

IRH
Institute for Research in the Humanities

Free and Open to the Public

IRH.WISC.EDU

Co-sponsored by the Division of International Studies, the Anonymous Fund, Department of Art History, Department of Afro-American Studies, Dance Department, Center for Visual Cultures, Office of Multicultural Initiatives, Department of Theatre and Drama, Art Department, Design Studies, and African Studies Program.

Symposium convener and collage designer:

Henry John Drewal, Evjue-Bascom Professor and Senior Fellow.

Symposium Program:

<http://irh.wisc.edu/events-141003.htm>